

103 Questions Game

How to Play:

Download (and print) the copy of the questions. Gather everyone around and choose a person to be the Question Reader. Everyone else will take turns picking a number 1-103. The Question Reader will read the question of the chosen number. The person who chose the number answers the question. Depending on the size of your group you may decide to go around and have everyone answer the question before moving on to the next person. Have fun and encourage each person to participate. If a question is too difficult to answer, come back to it later or choose a different number.
